Disclosure and Consent

Nonablative Laser Treatments for Wrinkle Reduction

This consent form is designed to provide the necessary information to decide whether or not to undergo nonablative laser treatments for wrinkle reduction.

Lasers used for these treatments selectively heat up the collagen in the skin to stimulate new collagen synthesis. There is no break in the surface of the skin and there is little or no downtime associated with this laser treatment. Microdermabrasion is often done in conjunction with these laser treatments for improvement of superficial fine lines and pigment changes.

Results are cumulative and several treatments are typically required for maximum benefit. No guarantees can be made as to the results that might be obtained from these procedures, the percentage of improvement expected following treatments, or that a specific result will be achieved.

Other alternative wrinkle reduction treatments include microdermabrasion, chemical peels, laser resurfacing, surgery (such as facelifts), or no treatment at all.

Possible risks, side effects, and complications of nonablative laser wrinkle reduction treatments include, but are not limited to:

- Hypopigmentation (lighter pigmentation) or hyperpigmentation (darker pigmentation)
- Herpes simplex (cold sores) or varicella (shingles) may be activated by treatments
- Tattoos and permanent makeup in the treatment area may be altered
- Burns, scarring

Patients with darker skin types have an increased risk of complications such as hypopigmentation, hyperpigmentation, burns, and scarring.

My signature below certifies that I have fully read this consent form and understand the information provided to me regarding the proposed procedure. I have been adequately informed about the procedure including the potential benefits, limitations, and alternative treatments, and I have had all my questions and concerns answered to my satisfaction. I understand and accept the risks, side effects, and possible complications inherent in undergoing nonablative laser treatments.
